Chris Lee seeks new NLV justice seat

Former Deputy District Attorney and current Deputy Secretary of State gains early support in bid

NORTH LAS VEGAS—Chris Lee, former Deputy District Attorney and current Deputy Secretary of State, carried two endorsements with him as he filed today for the newly created Department 3 seat in the North Las Vegas Township Justice Court.

The Clark County Prosecutors Association and the Clark County District Attorney Investigators Association have both given Lee early endorsements based in part on what the Investigators Association termed, “prosecutorial experience and work ethic.”

“I truly enjoyed my years as a prosecutor,” Lee said, “and I know the experience I gained there will serve me well as a judge. Lee also said his current work as the Deputy Secretary of State helps qualify him. “We do both criminal and administrative investigations into fraud on consumers, crooked securities scams, and other crimes. I’ve also been able to sharpen my administrative skills which, as a judge, should contribute towards a well-run courtroom,” Lee said.

This is Lee's second run as a candidate. In 2006 he narrowly lost to an incumbent justice of the peace, missing the mark by 406 votes out of more than twenty-five thousand votes cast.

Lee is active in the North Las Vegas community, serving in a number of civic organizations. Lee and his wife Ji Hye have a one-year-old son.
